P.H.S. Lunch and Learn – May 19, 2004

Speaker: Craig Lamb

Chief Geoscientist – Husky Oil Operations Limited

“Schlumberger’s Contributions to Exploration and Production in Western Canada”

Craig Lamb is currently Chief Geoscientist at Husky. Prior to joining Husky in 2002, Craig specialized in reservoir characterization of clastic, carbonate and, in particular, fractured reservoirs. He has over 30 years experience in public and private sector organizations and as an independent consultant. He has planned and managed geological and laboratory aspects of reservoir characterization projects for oil and gas companies and reservoir engineering consultants in Canada, the United States, S.E. Asia, South America, and the Middle East. He has also written and presented courses and papers on core analysis, fractured reservoir characterization, reservoir quality analysis, and technical training program design. Craig received a B.Sc. and an M.Sc. in Geology from the University of Manitoba, and an M.B.A. from the University of Calgary. He is a member of A.P.E.G.G.A. and the A.A.P.G., and is currently President of the C.S.P.G. In case you are wondering how it is that Craig is discussing Schlumberger, Craig was previously in that company’s employ.
